Gus has been representing our product for almost two years. He has over 27 years' expertise in metal sales on the west coast and is well-regarded as a gentleman with the highest integrity.

It is a pleasure for us to work with Gus Stiles and I know he always has our customers' wants and needs on the top of his list.

Gus has earned the trust of purchasing departments to work directly with company engineers and help make sure the correct metal is selected for the intended application. His dedication and experience make him a real asset to National Electronic Alloys.

I personally think you could not have a better person serving you, and I am both delighted and proud to have Gus as our representative.
